Hung sent me the following corrections on the last lesson....

Turns out I won't be able to go to dinner Wednesday night after all. The NYPD gave me mandatory overtime, so i have to go straight to work at 7:00 after my 101 class. Mia will still most likely go out with her class, so I hope there is still a good turnout and please have a pork chop for me!

Attached to this email is Hung's lesson on "Illnesses" I've converted it to jyut6 ping3 for those who wish to research the words on line. It should be very helpful for those in the medical field as well as for anyone who needs to translate in a medical situation. It happens to me sometimes with my job.

I've also resent my handout on "Going to the store" for those who missed it.

The final exams for the Cantonese 101 class will be as follows:

Wednesday class: 12/17/08

Saturday class: 12/20/08

Kam's class will most likely extend into January for a few classes since we missed a few sessions due to the school being closed for maintenance and Holidays.

Please remember that the school will be closed Saturday 11/29 for the Thanksgiving Holiday but I hope everyone has a happy and healthy Holiday...

Happy Thanksgiving!

Remember all of the classes are FREE (any donation appreciated) and any of the classes may be attended at any time. So come on down if you have time. Don't forget to practice your Cantonese and Chinese characters every day. For those new people who need it, check out the current class schedule. Feel free to email or call me with any questions, comments, trivia or babble. Hope to see you all in class.
